

News from Maggie Toussaint

Hey Everybody!

ON THE NICKEL, the second book in my Cleopatra Jones mystery series, will release from Five Star in March 2011. In this story, Mama's car is a murder weapon, but was Mama behind the wheel? Cleo tries to keep Mama out of jail, her teens under wraps, and her pregnant dog happy.

MUDDY WATERS, a stand-alone romantic suspense, will release from The Wild Rose Press this fall. Roxie and Sloan are oil and water with a lowcountry twist. This community advocate and former town bad boy team up to fix his house and search for his missing inheritance. A bad guy muddies the waters, raising the stakes to life and death.

My Dreamwalker series got a make-over, and I switched the order of Bubba Done It and Gone And Done It. Now the series is paranormal from the git-go. New titles are: SHATTERED DREAMS and DANGEROUS DREAMS. Know any editors looking for paranormal mysteries?

What I'm working on now: a futuristic thriller, THE GUARDIAN. In 2060, a syndicate of power brokers takes control of the world's food and water supply. A reclusive but brilliant hydrologist, his android with an attitude, and a new age singer-songwriter join forces to expose the conspiracy.

Sad News: With my time in short supply, I decided to withdraw from The Book Spa discussion group. Turned out the other moderators were hard pressed for time as well. We could have allowed the loop to wither on the vine of neglect, but the Spa had been so active and vital, we didn't want that. We closed the Spa on March 4 and opened a more relaxed chat loop, bookspafriends@yahoo.com. Join us!

Catch me here:

- ❖ Pink Fuzzy Slipper blog, March 31, <http://pinkfuzzyslipperwriters.blogspot.com/>
- ❖ Washington Romance Writers Retreat, April 16-18, Leesburg, VA
- ❖ Killer Nashville, Aug. 20-22, Nashville, TN
- ❖ Self-editing workshop, First Coast Romance Writers, Oct. 9, Jacksonville, FL

Look for my next newsletter in June 2010. Until then, good times!

To unsubscribe send an email to maggietoussaint@dorientel.net