

Notes from Maggie Toussaint

On October 2, I was interviewed live on the radio! Fran Stewart of Mystery Matters chatted with me for an hour, and I felt just like Cinderella. The best part is that you can still listen to the interview. Here's the link:

<http://www.modavox.com/voiceamerica/vepisode.aspx?aid=41435>

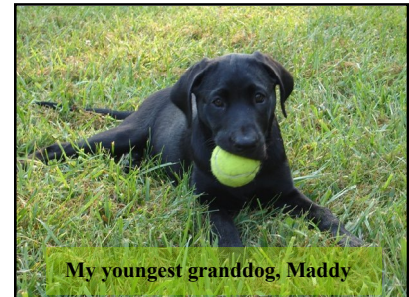

I recently received two new reviews for NO SECOND CHANCE, my horse rescue romantic suspense. Steph at Classic Romance Revival had this to say: "...Toussaint has an easy writing style that engages the reader. No Second Chance is a riveting romantic suspense that keeps the reader on the edge of their seat." Author Margaret Tanner wrote this: "Wonderful, exciting and suspenseful story. I read it all in one sitting..." These reviews and their links should be posted on my website very soon.

BUBBA DONE IT is making the rounds of publishing houses. I finished writing GONE AND DONE IT, the second title in the dreamwalker mystery series. Very soon it will be entering the fray. Meanwhile, my agent is also shopping my southern secrets mystery series, starting with MURDER IN THE BUFF.

ON THE NICKEL advanced to the next round of acquisitions at Five Star. This is the second book in my Cleopatra Jones mystery series, featuring my accounting sleuth who really knows how to add up all the facts.

Meanwhile, I've been working on a romantic suspense these last few months. TEMPEST IN A TEAPOT, features a realtor and a security expert. She's a community advocate, he's the town bad boy; together they delve into the past to solve the riddle of his missing inheritance. They're not the only ones looking. Someone else wants that money, someone who will stop at nothing to get it.

My youngest granddog, Maddy

Catch me here:

- ❖ Monday, October 26, Amber Polo's wordshaping blog, "Balancing Writing and Life," <http://amberpolo.blogspot.com/>
- ❖ Saturday, November 7, Altamonte Mall, Orlando, 2 to 5 pm booksigning at the fountain area, "Romancing the Holidays"
- ❖ Tuesdays at The Book Spa, <http://groups.yahoo.com/group/TheBookSpa/>

Look for my next newsletter in January 2010. Until then, good times!

To unsubscribe send an email to maggietoussaint@dariantel.net